

HUMANITY
CENTERED
ROBOTICS
INITIATIVE

BROWN

CELEBRATE NATIONAL ROBOTICS WEEK! APRIL 5-13

SATURDAY, APRIL 5: ROBOT BLOCK PARTY

11:00am – 4:00pm at Brown University’s Pizzitola Center
235 Hope Street, Providence

Rhode Island School of the Future and the Humanity Centered Robotics Initiative are joining forces, featuring robot demonstrations and exhibits from industry, universities, community organizations and public, private, parochial and home school groups. Free and open to the public.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9: HCRI GUEST SPEAKER TOM WAGNER

12:00pm - 1:30pm at Brown University’s Barus and Holley Building
182 Hope Street, Room 190, Providence

Tom Wagner speaks on “Robots, Explosives, Parachutes, Balloons, Dogs, and Why You Are the Key to Widespread Robotics.”

FRIDAY, APRIL 11: RYAN WILLIAMS RESEARCH TALK

12:00pm – 1:00pm at Brown University’s CIT Building
115 Waterman Street, Room 477, Lubrano Conference Room, Providence

Ryan Williams from USC presents “Interaction and Topology in Distributed Multi-Agent Coordination” over the Beam robot.

SATURDAY, APRIL 12: BROWN IEEE ROBOTICS COMPETITION

Brown’s Barus and Holley Building, 182 Hope Street, Providence

This event features a robotics competition to enhance the education of aspiring engineers and computer scientists or anyone interested in the applications of robotics.

*For more information on National Robotics Week, go to nationalroboticsweek.org
For details on Brown University’s robotics events, contact hcri@brown.edu or visit hcri.brown.edu.*